

CANDLEMAKERS CHECKLIST

Joint advice from Trading Standards and the British Candlemakers Federation

The British
Candlemakers
Federation

TRADING STANDARDS
SERVICE

- You know what is in your product, and have it written down.
- You have made a choice on whether to hire a consultant.
- You have a safety testing plan.
- You know your product is safe to be placed on the market.
- You know whether you need safety data sheets (SDS) or not.
- You hold SDS for the relevant products (where applicable).
- You identified the applicable hazard statements and pictograms.
- You have developed CLP compliant labels.
- You have ensured these labels comply with the British Standards.
- You have developed a system of batch numbering for traceability.
- You have got (name/address/tel.) contact details on packaging.
- You have got a technical file.
- Your website is compliant with the “e-commerce Regulations”.
- You have developed RAPEX/recall procedures.
- You know what ongoing safety monitoring to do.